to have made representations to the administrators of the fund for an extension of the term of the scholarships. The administrators are therefore of the opinion that the maximum period tenable may be raised to 5 years. The President of the fund has also reported that an instance had occurred wherein a scholarship holder had discontinued his studies before the completion of his course and where the refund of the amount paid, could not be enforced as there is no adequate provision in the rules as they stand at present for recovering the amount paid. In view of these difficulties the administrators propose to make necessary amendments to the rules so as to meet contingencies of the kind referred to above. I therefore recommend that the modifications suggested by the administrators may be approved by Government. The application for the modification of the scheme is herewith submitted.
